

OCT. 3 MONDAY

The Buffett Institute for Global Studies and the Department of French & Italian along with co-sponsors the French Interdisciplinary Group (FIG),
the Program in Middle East and North African Studies (MENA), and the Program of African Studies

PRESENT

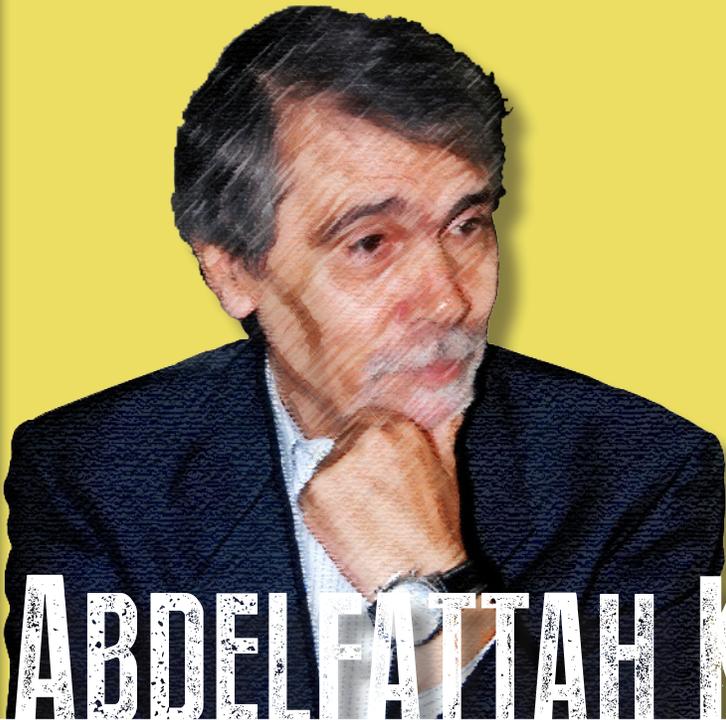

MENA Monday

Conversation with Abdelfattah Kilito

LANGUAGES OF THE LITERATURES OF THE MAGHREB

Hagstrum Room, University Hall 201

12:00 PM

ABDELFATTAH KILITO

Free and open to everyone. Lunch will be provided.

ABDELFATTAH KILITO is a world-renowned writer, critic, translator and scholar from Morocco. His body of work on Arabic poetics, on A Thousand of One Nights, on authorship and perjury in the Arabic tradition as well as his own works of fiction distinguishes itself not only by its variety of genres but also by its originality of style and theme, navigating multiple literary and linguistic traditions. This first week-long visit to Northwestern has been made possible by a "Big Ideas" grant from the Buffett Institute for Global Studies.

OCT. 4 TUESDAY

Breakfast and discussion
with Abdelfattah Kilito

OCT. 7 FRIDAY

The Penultimate
Voyage:
Dante,
Sindbad,
Ulysses

